107TH CONGRESS 1ST SESSION

H. R. 104

To repeal the Bennett Freeze thus ending a gross treaty violation with the Navajo Nation and allowing the Navajo Nation to live in habitable dwellings and raise their living conditions, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

January 3, 2001

Mr. Hayworth introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Resources

A BILL

To repeal the Bennett Freeze thus ending a gross treaty violation with the Navajo Nation and allowing the Navajo Nation to live in habitable dwellings and raise their living conditions, and for other purposes.

- 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
- 2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,
- 3 SECTION 1. FINDINGS.
- 4 The Congress finds that—
- 5 (1) the Navajo Nation is one of the largest and
- 6 most economically depressed Indian reservations in
- 7 the United States;

- 1 (2) the Bennett Freeze, named after former
 2 Bureau of Indian Affairs Commissioner Robert Ben3 nett, was administratively issued in 1966 to restrict
 4 the Navajo tribe from constructing and repairing
 5 their dwellings on land that was subject to a land
 6 dispute with the Hopi Tribe;
 - (3) the Bennett Freeze has affected 1,500,000 acres of land, approximately 9 percent of the total acreage of the Navajo Nation, covering 10 chapters and affecting nearly 8,000 people;
 - (4) only 3 percent of the families affected by the Bennett Freeze have electricity and only 10 percent have running water;
 - (5) since 1966, the population has increased by approximately 65 percent in the Bennett Freeze area, forcing several generations of families to live together in dwellings that have been declared unfit for human habitation;
 - (6) members of the medical community confirm that overcrowding and the absence of running water, refrigeration, and adequate sewage disposal adversely impact the mental and physical health of Navajos residing in the Bennett Freeze area;
 - (7) the Bennett Freeze has halted essential construction, including power line extensions, waterline

2	cilities improvements;
3	(8) when the Bennett Freeze was temporarily

- (8) when the Bennett Freeze was temporarily lifted in 1992, an ambitious $20,000,000 construction plan for new dwellings was proposed that would have raised living conditions and increased the economic viability of the Bennett Freeze area, however, the plan did not become a reality because a Federal judge reinstated the freeze;
- (9) the Federal Government has not taken the steps necessary to end the Bennett Freeze in this already economically depressed community; and
- 13 (10) the Bennett Freeze is a gross violation of 14 treaty obligations to the Navajo Nation.

15 SEC. 2. REPEAL OF THE BENNETT FREEZE.

16 Section 10(f) of Public Law 93–531 (25 U.S.C. 17 640d–9(f)) is repealed.
